

ITTF WEBPAGE FOR UMPIRES AND REFEREES

The ITTF are in the progress of launching their new website. Whilst some of the information is still within their old website, please be aware that the link to the new website, shown below, takes you to a host of information that is important for umpires and referees

<https://www.ittf.com/committees/umpires-referees/>

If you want to access the ITTF website yourself then the following information may be helpful:-

Go to the ITTF website and in the Home Page that opens up you should see a menu (in light typeface) running along the very top of the page. This menu list features the Facebook and Twitter symbols, among others, to the far right of the menu list. From this menu list select "More" and from the drop-down menu then select "Committees". On the page that opens there is the section for Umpires and Referees.